

Landscape, Democracy and the European Union: Our open-access Learning Environment

This output is an online resource and all materials and intellectual products are publicly accessible via our learning management system. This overview page serves the ERASMUS+ Project Results Platform to make sure that the materials are shared with a wider audience.

The project itself has the following domain: <http://www.eu-ladder.eu>

This deliverable comprises a series of recorded lectures and lecture materials on all phases of this seminar. Anyone interested can also register here for the upcoming seminar edition.

The course is designed for students and/or practitioners from all disciplines.

All materials from all course editions are published as open educational resources and can be further used both by other instructors and by learners. The course covers the following topics:

- A.1 Landscape, Democracy and the European Union
- A.2 Uncovering the European Union
- A.3 The political environment of the European Union
- A.4 European Union Policy in the Context of Landscape and Democracy

- B.1 An agricultural perspective on landscape: Mapping the terrain
- B.2 Our landscapes in the light of the Common Agricultural Policy
- B.3 Development perspectives in agriculture and landscape development

- C.1 Our landscapes in the light of the EU's Regional Policy
- C.2 Rural development in the European Union
- C.2 Urban development in the European Union

- D.1 Environmental Impact Assessment - An international comparison
- D.2 The Water Framework Directive
- D.3 The European Floods Directive
- D.4 Natura 2000: The European Nature Protection Network
- D.5 Natura 2000: European Case Studies

- E.1 /E.2 Climate Change and Renewable Energy in the EU